Prologue

It was a traffic accident.

Before both of them leave the house, what were the last words that we exchanged with each other?

I don’t really remember going to hospital and funeral.

No, I actually remember, however it’s vague, as though covered with a fog.

I have a sister (imouto) that's 3 years younger than me, but I can’t really remember her either.

By the way, it must be 10 years since the last time I left the house.

Even though I went out after 10 years, I don’t really remember it so I feel it’s a waste.

To make it easier for me to leave the house, it maybe this is the last gift that Father and Mother left for me.

But it was exchanged with both of their life, so I'm not particularly happy.

Then, let’s go out.

I had become hikkikomori (shut in) and NEET for 10 years, but Father and Mother still treat me kindly.

If I keep continue being a hikkikomori, I think their death will be in vain.

Let’s go out.

Yuuji, trying to leave the house.

「Fuu.... Did this day finally come.....?」

北条　雄二
Houjou Yuuji. 30 years old. For 10 years, never leaving the house, a splendid hiki-NEET. Using his parents' death as a springboard, he decided to shed off his hiki-NEET persona today.

「The clothes.... Is jeans and parka, good? The first rehabilitation program is to go to the supermarket in the neighborhood. Hair is..... Since it's this long, let's swept it back and tie it for the time being. It's important to have a sense for cleanliness, yes.」

Yuuji was 175 centimeter and 65 kilogram.[1] Since he did weight training when he was a hikikomori, he was not fat, his face was also average. His hair was deliberately left to grow as long as it wants, such was his external appearances.

He had washed his face, brushed his teeth, and shaved his beard. With this, his preparation was complete. He sat on the bed, while calming his palpitating heart and trembling hand, he strengthening his resolve to finally leave the house.

「It will be okay, right, myself? Maybe this is the last chance. To go out. To keep living. I can do it. Even if alone, I can do it. I am a person who can do it if I try. I can do it, I can do it, I can do it, I can do it,.....」

He talked to himself like a crazy person. In his 10 years of hikikomori, the frequency of him talking to himself was increasing, his volume also got louder. It was something that couldn’t be helped.

At last, Yuuji made up his mind and faced the entrance door. However, he couldn’t find his shoes at the entrance door. Since he didn’t need it for 10 years. He knew that there are some in the room, but he had the desire to not return inside before leaving the house. There is no other way, he murmured and wore the sandals for the garden.

「It will be okay, outside is not scary. Not scary. I don’t have any enemies. Nobody is an enemy. A real warrior doesn’t need swords. I can do it. Even if alone, I can do it.」

While trembling, Yuuji was mumbling the proverbs from Former War Demon from somewhere, about what is the meaning of Warrior or something. But he was distracted. Although he was speaking about bravery, his hand who grasped the entrance door handle didn’t make any opening sound. 5 Minutes. 10 Minutes. Inside Yuuji’s brain the words「I will be serious tomorrow」suddenly appeared inside his mind.

Woof!

A cry[2] can be heard from the door, no, with a howl, the door was opened quickly. Yuuji who can’t opened the door by himself, was moved by that voice. It was bravely standing on the firm ground with its four feet. Its tail was waving quickly as if it would be torn off sooner or later. Its pale brown fur and big round eyes were dignified, but its mouth sloppily opened and its tongue dangling down.

Its name was Kotarou[3], by the way, she’s a female.[4]

She was licking at Yuuji hand who was still dazed on the entranceway. ‘You are so hopeless, so I will come with you!’ as if she was saying like that with her head turned to him, in addition her feet was towards the entrance. What a gallant man, although she was a female.

「I see..... I am not alone. There is still you, Kotarou!」

Yuuji, a jobless 30 years old, hugged his beloved dog-Kotarou. Without being aware of it, he was already leaving the entranceway behind him. For a while he petted and played with her just like Mu*gorou-san[5], but Yuuji then calmed down and stood up.

He raised his head and saw what outside the garden beyond the gate.

He tilted his head in confusion.

He closed his eyes and shook his head in denial. Slowly he opened his eyes to see what outside the garden.

The scenery didn’t change.

It was a forest.

Outside the garden was a forest.

As far as eyes can see was a forest.

Nandakore

「What the heck is this?」

Yuuji, giving up on leaving the house.

To left his 10 years of Hiki-NEET behind, Houjou Yuuji, 30 years old and jobless, finally moved his feet to step out from his house. He came out with the assistance of his beloved partner Kotarou, but the outside of his house's premise was a forest.

Of course, Houjou family's house is not located in the middle of forest. It was a single house unit that was built in the suburb of a prefectural capital city in North Kanto. It also had neighbors, although separated from them by 300 meters either way. But the current situation was just like in Gunma[1].

「It's that right? While I shut myself in the house for 10 years, we moved our residence, right? How about you Kotarou? Do you know something?」

Yuuji couldn't recover from his confusion. The end result was that he was asking a dog. Of course, she wouldn't know. No, since Kotarou was smart, she might know something, but she just can't speak. 'Don't you want to go outside?' 'Don't you want to take a walk?' She merely wagged her tail as if saying that, and waiting for Yuuji in front of the gate.

「That must be it. It's not our residence that moved, but the neighbors that moved out, yup. Since I'm always in the house, we can't change our residence without me being aware of it. Haha, I am a baka (stupid fool).」

Without doubt, he is a Baka. Even if his neighbors moved out, it won't become a forest even if 10 years went by. Yup, no freaking way. Yuuji still didn't recover from his confusion, repeating his nonsensical mutterings continuously, but at that time.

Gegyaaaa!

Yuuji and Kotarou look at the direction of the roar that came from the sky.

What they saw was a strange bird.

Its wingspan was about 10 meters. On the wing's edge was a sharp claw. Its slender streamlined body was ashen in color. Its lizard-like head had a long neck, with fangs jutted from its mouth. In its hind leg it seemed like it was firmly grasping at a green human-shaped thing.[2]

One person and one animal stared up dumbfounded, while the strange bird flew away into the direction of a mountain that faintly can be seen. Yuuji and Kotarou stood silently. 5 minutes. 10 minutes. Finally they finished rebooting.

「All right! Let’s go inside the house. We will give our best shot tomorrow, Kotarou. I really will leave the house tomorrow.」

Just like a 360 degree circle, his panic soon calmed, but what should he think about the strange bird? For the time being, he just decided to ignore what he had seen. He was fleeing from reality.

「All right! Kotarou, today you can come inside the house! Wh~y? Because, I now live alone in the house, so let’s live along together.」

Hearing Yuuji’s word, Kotarou ran to the dog house in the corner of the garden. Yuuji, who had stood still and trembling in shock, was now turned into smiling. Kotarou had put her favorite blanket in her mouth and was running back. Since it has heard that it can come inside the house. What a clever dog. The blanket was dirty though.

Yuuji, checking the lifeline.

Houjou family house had a living room, dining room, kitchen, washitsu[1], toilet and bathroom on the first floor, while the second floor had three bedroom with toilet and showers. It was a 4LDK, build 20 years ago, ordinary single house.

The house's yard had a roofed garage that can support two cars and prefab storage, there's also Kotarou’s dog house. By the way, since it was damaged in his parents’ traffic accident, one of the cars was out of service. The one car remaining was the light car[2] that his mother had usually used.

「Now then, although I don’t know why the surrounding turned into a forest, for now let’s check the food.」

Yuuji was speaking to himself. As usual, his voice was loud, so it seemed he had regained his composure.

「The refrigerator..... contains little raw food, the others are seasonings and beverages, huh? The freezer..... Oh, there’s quite a lot. The cupboard..... Oh, there a lot of cup ramen and wheat flour. Oh yeah, that reminds me, there are emergency rations on the floor storage..... Okay! The emergency rations are enough for 3 people for 3 months, so if it’s just me then it’s enough for 9 months! Although it will be boring, I can survive on it.」

Yuuji was speaking to himself. "Are you talking to me?" Kotarou rushed to him. Although Yuuji had regained his composure, he didn’t confirm the fundamental point in the first place.

「What’s wrong Kotarou? Why you came to here? Is it meal? Are you thirsty? Hm, if this okay for you?」

He turned the faucet and collect the water on a bowl for the soup, and put it on Kotarou's feet. She drunk the water while splashing it around.

「Hm? Oh? The water, comes out. The hot water... does not. Gas stove can be ignited. Oh yeah, I can use electricity in the first place. So the electricity is alive, right?」

Seems like it, he had confirmed the lifeline. In summary, Yuuji had checked the electricity, gas, and water usability.

The surroundings had changed into a forest, Houjou family house was now located in the middle of it, a strange bird had flown in the air. He now understood the ambiguous reality.

「Electricity, Gas, Water is OK. The last is telecommunication huh? The telephone.... is connected. But I don’t remember any numbers that I could call to. Since, I am Hikkikomori. What about internet? If it's connected, that'll be comforting.」

Yujii went to his room on the second floor. As if it was a antural things to do, Kotarou followed him and climbed the stairs.

「All right! Internet is LIVE! With this, victory is mine!!」

By the way, what he had won was unidentified.[3]

It’s Another World.

Yuuji, achieving food security.

Since he had confirmed the lifeline were working for the time being, Yuuji started to escape from reality. To photograph the wyvernish strange bird. At present, he only concentrated on that subject. He tackled this seriously -- perhaps it could be said that in a sense, he had made a serious effort.

「The house can be seen, the forest also can be seen. The paper with ID is also has been prepared. This is the ultimate camera angle. Leave taking a picture of strange bird to me and Kotarou! It’s good that I found a camera with wireless shutter. Old Man, what do you intent to shoot with this..... Ah, Kotarou! Don’t touch the tripod! The best angle will go out of alignment!」

At 7 in the morning, he woke up and took his breakfast. Throughout the morning he glanced at the outside to see if the strange bird will appear, while he was searched for the house cleaning tools. After eating a light lunch, he went out to the garden. While playing with Kotarou as the substitute for taking her for a walk, he kept waiting for the strange bird. After the sun went down, he took a bath. Afterwards he check the net, he took a peek or posted messages at the bulletin board. Thus, like this Yuuji and Kotarou passed their tranquil days.

But after one week, the cold truth of reality bared its fangs on Yuuji.

It was the question of food.

「The refrigerator is almost empty?..... Though there still the things in the freezer, rice, wheat, cup ramen and emergency rations..... Even if I economizing it use, but after one year I will still starved to death. Should I make preparation today, so tomorrow morning I can go for an exploration?」

On the next day dawn, finally Yuuji and Kotarou stand behind the gate to leave the house. On Yuuji's back is a large rucksack. Inside it was his lunch and tea, a small bag with tools for harvesting, rain gear, emergency rations, spade, and pickaxe for mountain climbing.

Yuuji personally wore climbing boots, a vest, a cap, and in his hand was a trekking pole. On his waist was a hatchet. A complete mountaineering look. Which wasn't that surprising, since 2 years before he became a hikkikomori he was a member of a Wandervogel[1] club.

「Let's go Kotarou. Our objective is Securing Food! Our aim is berries, fruits, and wild herbs. Although it's risky, if we come across mushrooms let's also pick it up. Begin Depart!」

Yuuji called out to the valiant Kotarou. However, his foot didn't move. "I already know that." As if she want to say that, Kotarou already walked to outside. "Don't you want to go?" She turned her head and stare at Yuuji. Not only wise, it was a courageous dog.[2] What a gentlemen. She's a girl, though.

With Kotarou's leadership, Yuuji moved forward in the exploration by walking straight from the gate in the generally south direction. He chose this direction to reduce the probability of encountering the strange bird, since it came from the East and fly to the North. Also wasn't fruit more probable in the south?[3] Thus, his thinking that could only exist solely due to his weak head.

The birds' chirping, the soft sunlight between the trees. The shrubs that slightly hindered his walking were cleared with the trekking pole or the hatchet as Yuuji continued on the exploration.

Dangerous animals like wild boar, bear, snake or mysterious creature like the strange bird were nowhere to seen.

The traveling was proceeding smoothly, but the harvesting situation was disappointing.

As expected, after all even if he was a rural hick and belonged to a Mountain Trekking Club, Yuuji had no experience in picking either wild herbs or mushrooms. Even so, small cherry-like fruit or acorn-like nut, olive brown wood ear-like mushroom, and -- although it was obviously dangerous but maybe it could be processed somehow -- a deep red mushroom, were stuffed inside the rucksack.

「There's no place where there's water, let’s end here today and have lunch at the house. What do you say, Kotarou?」

“I understand.” as if saying that, Kotarou replied with one bark. Leaded by Kotarou, Yuuji followed her from behind.

By the way, this man, although he carried a compass, did not perform a mapping. He just entrusted everything to Kotarou. Even on gathering edible plants, once again he entrusted it to Kotarou.

Do your best[4], Kotarou.

Message from the Author: ※It’s very dangerous to eat a mushroom that you don’t recognize well.

There a lot of example of「Eat then Die」!

There also a lot of mushroom that dangerous to touch.

If you found some in the mountain, river, field, farm, city, road, garden, or house To eat it is absurd!

Please don’t eat it. I implore you.

That’s what the people in the bulletin board try to say.

Even if Yuuji was incapacitated by Mushroom poisoning, there still Kotarou as the next MC.... Since it’s a gentleman, it’s female though.

Yuuji, meeting with mysterious creature.

「But the acorn is good news. They said that they staved off starvation in Japan with acorns. Furthermore, despite the season being spring, the acorn can be collected in huge numbers. For the time being, should we go out and collect the acorns and mountain berry?」

hikkikomori

He became shutted-in with the toilet for the whole night, finally at the dawn he fell asleep, and then suddenly it was noon. Together with Kotarou, today he would conduct his second exploration to the forest. Because he decided to not go that far, today he brought along a camera. He would record the scenery along the way.

「Though I don't encounter any mysterious creature, but what about insects?」

He was gathering while looking at his surrounding, but he didn't see any insects with abnormally large sizes or look particularly odd.

「This one looks like tiger mosquito[1], looks like ant, looks like pillbug..... it's all ordinary. If it's like this then people will doubt that this is another world. Except for the strange bird on the first day this is a normal forest. Is it a optical illusion or hallucination, perhaps my head had really become weird.[2] Hmm... Strange animals, strange animals, strange.... Fuuuuu-...!?」

Yuuji stopped moving while giving off a strange voice. With a surprised reaction, Kotarou stopped her feet. "What's wrong?" as if she wanted to say that, she turned her head towards Yuuji. As if invited by the power of the words of Yuuji who repeatedly fire his soliloquy in big voice, 「Strange animals」, that thing really did appear. No, since the beginning it had already been there for a while.

Between the trees, there were threads pasted on it. Enshrined inside those beautiful hexagonal geometric patterns was a single creature. It was a spider. However, if it just a spider then Yuuji wouldn't produce such a strange voice. It was gargantuan. It's was an ordinary-looking spider, but it was freaking huge.[3]

Excluding the feet, the spider torso was as big as Yuuji's head. The overall size including the legs was about 1 meter. The nest diameter is short of 10 meters. It was a size that can hunt a human child. An existence that causes goosebumps.

Without taking his eyes off from it, Yuuji and Kotarou slowly stepped back. Their distance from the nest was only 3 meters, Yuuji prepared the camera. His right hand held the camera while his left hand held aloft a piece of paper with his ID written on it. He was calm, but would this end fine?

Yuuji who successfully record it without problem, together with Kotarou began to return to home.

'There is nothing wrong with my head, this is really another world'. While holding anxiety toward this dangerous situation but with an odd sense of security, Yuuji rushed towards the house.

However, that night, he would encountered a mysterious creature that surpassed the huge spider, Yuuji would experience a more dangerous situation, and he would throw more excitement into the melting pot that was the bulletin board.

It will become more exciting after this... maybe....

Gagonn....!

Yuuji was grinding his teeth from the lack of response to the spider when his ear picked up loud noises.

「Is it from outside? Is someone coming...?!」

He descended the stairs noisily, wearing the sandals, and then he opened the entranceway door.

What appeared in his eyes were child-sized creatures with green skin. There were 2 of them.

While saying "Gegyagugya", they strike at the gate with thick wooden club.

However strangely, there was no sound of the club striking the metal. But "Gago....ga....", as if there was an invisible wall before the gate.

Yuuji who returned to his senses, immediately returned to his room.

「Those must be goblins....! Camera Camera!!」

Just like a fool. He really was vexed by the lack of reaction to the giant spider.

He woke up the sleeping Kotarou with rough shaking. “Mou, what is it?”

As if she want to say that as she was taken along by Yuuji with a camera in his hand to the outside.

He set up the tripod, put the camera atop of it, and startup the camera. He rushed over to the gate while carrying Kotarou. He put Kotarou near his feet. He took out the prepared A4 paper with his ID written on it. Click the wireless shutter. Ran to the camera and checked the back display. Lastly, he made a victory pose.

「Hell yeah! It’s captured splendidly!」

Just like a fool. He took out the memory card from the camera, entered the house while carrying Kotarou, climbed the stairway. He was neglecting the goblins.

For now just always video the gate Though it will depend on the memory card capacity Combined with that good camera then I think it could go for four hours

What do you do when a Goblin attack your house? Posit in the buleltin board, that is....

Oh yeah this is the map of Kanto Plain, so people who don't know where Gunma, Tochigi or Ibaraki could see it (all of them is on North Kanto).

[1] exif: exchangeable image file format, see . Tampered image (or photoshopped image)have their exif value changed or erased. It is possible to tamper with exif value but it’s time consuming (at least that what my Google-fu said). As you can see from , there a lot of exif value fields

[2] Ossan is how you call a middle aged man (although it relatively rude and informal)

[3] Corrupted if you forget

[4] Yep.... It’s F, but with the “ck” syllable omitted: ファツ

[5] Kobujutsu read this I read somewhere that the difference from modern martial arts school is that Kobujutsu is geared to killing enemy less than subduing them (since it was for warfare)

Yuuji, exterminating Goblin (temporary name)

「So something long huh..... That’s true I think. But it will be impossible to battle adjacent enemy if suddenly it become one versus many. When the next time that goblin-ish creatures comes again, I need to record a video, greet them, if that’s not good then attack them. For now, let’s check the mysterious barrier on the gate.」

It was dawn on the next day after the goblins' uproar. Today Yuuji also speak to himself in a loud voice.

Since at outside there were hostile mysterious creatures that wielded clubs, for the time being the harvesting was postponed, today he decided to check the mysterious barrier.

Maybe because she had became impatient that Yuuji was not moving at all, Kotarou ran towards the gate.

Between the gaps of lattice at the gate, Kotarou thrust her front paw and clawed a goblin. Kotarou’s claw hit the goblin’s thigh and from that small wound, blood was shed. That blood's color was blue.

Maybe because he was encouraged by Kotarou’s bold attack, by the lack sense of reality from the blue blood, Yuuji stopped trembling.

With hedge clippers in his hand, one step, two steps. Maybe because the goblin didn’t recognize it as a weapon, it didn’t try to avoid when its neck was put between the gaps of the scissors. He gripped the handle with all of his power and with both of his arms he closed the scissors in one move.

batsun...!

The neck was severed by the hedge clippers, and from the goblin neck blue blood vigorously gushed out. The goblin collapsed. The four remaining goblins noticed their comrade's death and they became more furious in striking the gate with their club, but their attack was obstructed by the invisible wall.

Yuuji was lost in the heat of battle and swung the hedge clipper recklessly. Open, insert between, close, and sometime stab.

woof...!

When Yuuji regained his sense because of the bark from Kotarou, the five goblins already lie down defeated, near them was a blue sea of blood. "Are you okay?" Kotarou stared at Yuuji. What a reliable girl. She's a dog though.

Despite Kotarou being worried by it, Yuuji opened the gate and staggered outside. In front of the goblins, he stood still and dumbfounded. Kotarou got close to Yuuji's foot. Then at that time,

"Gegyagyaa...!"

It was a goblin with severed left wrist, crushed left eyes, and covered by wounds. It stood up and with the club it held aloft in its right hand, it swung the club downward towards Yuuji.

Maybe because of the intent to kill that was poured at close range, or maybe because of the gruesome appearance from that soul who prepared to die while trying to get revenge, Yuuji stood still as he stared at the club that was swinging down.

It was too quick, Yuuji would soon meet his demise. Even if he still didn't have any girlfriend.

Suddenly, a flash of a pale brown shadow jumped out, and bit at the goblin throat. With the momentum from the lunge, she struck the goblin with her body, and pushed it down. All without separating her mouth from the collapsed goblin, was it because of her wild instinct?

Goki With a sound, the goblin's neck snapped and it really died for good now.

Auuuuuuu!

As if she was proud of the victory, she stepped firmly on her four limbs, puffed her chest, and then Kotarou howled.

Thus, Kotarou play a great role in Yuuji's first battle.

This might be just my theory, but it seems that it was Kotarou that received a cheat and not Yuuji....

Epilogue.
